Dear Potential Sponsor,

A Bit About Us

SacHacks is the first major collegiate hackathon in the Sacramento, California area. Our passion is to create opportunities for those with potential to launch their ideas in a public venue. We provide the place, gather the creative minds, and have a friendly competition that lasts 24 hours. At the end of these 24 hours, participants will have a chance to pitch their project and launch their ideas to an audience of peers and company representatives.

Why Sponsor?

Your support as a sponsor of SacHacks will contribute to the growing generation of creative minds and allow us to make this event happen. All contributions will be used to cover cost of venue, food and refreshments, t-shirts and apparel, and everything required at a Hackathon. This will allow Hackers to be able to focus on launching their ideas at the end of the event.

As a sponsor of the event, you will also be able to meet hundreds of engineers, coders, and creative minds from diverse backgrounds, review their resumes, and interview them in person at the event! It will also be a great chance to showcase your company's products, brand, and find potential employees among this group of talented individuals.

Your time and contribution is much appreciated.

Sincerely,

SacHacks Team
